BACKGROUND INFORMATION

About FSC

FSC is a non-profit membership organization that provides a certification tool to enable sustainable management of forests. Currently, over 200 million hectares of forests worldwide are certified to FSC standards. It is widely regarded as the most rigorous forest certification system among NGOs, consumers, and businesses alike to maintain healthy and resilient forests. FSC’s responsible forestry standard is a proven solution to tackle today’s deforestation, climate, and biodiversity challenges. The standard is based on ten core principles and is linked to strict chain of custody and forest management certifications.

Found on millions of forest-based products around the world, FSC’s “check tree” label verifies sustainable sourcing from forest to consumer. Choosing FSC helps to preserve forests, wildlife and clean water and supports the Indigenous Peoples, forest workers and communities who depend on them. www.fsc.org.

FSC Mission: Our mission is to promote environmentally appropriate, socially beneficial, and economically viable management of the world’s forests.

FSC Vision: The true value of forests is recognized and fully incorporated into society worldwide. FSC is the leading catalyst and defining force for improved forest management and market transformation, shifting the global forest trend toward sustainable use, conservation, restoration, and respect for all.

Key Facts About FSC International

- FSC Group is composed of the mother organization, based in Mexico and its three wholly owned subsidiaries based in Germany.
- Head office in Bonn/Germany includes one non-profit entity (FSC International Center gGmbH) and two for-profit entities (FSC Global Development GmbH and ASI-Assurance Services International GmbH)
- 200 employees worldwide active in over 40 countries with certificates in over 120 markets
- Trusted by NGOs. FSC is uniquely supported by the world’s most trusted environmental organizations, such as WWF, Rainforest Alliance, Sierra Club, National Wildlife Foundation and more. It is also the only forest-based certification scheme which is a member ISEAL Alliance, the global association for social and environmental standards systems.
- Trusted by consumers: FSC is the most recognized forest certification label with 54 per cent of global consumers expressing high levels of trust in FSC’s role to protect forests.
- Trusted by the private sector: FSC is the preferred certification scheme for many companies worldwide and is the most used by members of the Fortune 500. FSC is preferred by major brands like IKEA, H&M, McDonald’s, and Tetra Pak, and FSC has over 50,000 chain of custody certificate holders, more than any other forest-based certification scheme.
- Fundamentally balanced: FSC is the pioneer of a multi-stakeholder governance system that gives equal weight to economic, environmental, and social chambers – an approach respected by many NGOs as the gold standard.
ABOUT THIS PROJECT

Background: FSC International conducted centralized and national processes in 60 countries during 2015 and 2019 to assess the risk of forest products coming from any of the five categories of unacceptable sources (Controlled Wood Categories), i.e.:

1. Illegally harvested.
2. Harvested in violation of traditional and human rights.
3. Harvested from forests in which high conservation values are threatened by management activities.
4. Harvested from forests being converted to plantations or non-forest use.
5. Harvested from forests in which genetically modified trees are planted.

While the existing versions of the risk assessments are useful, they need to be reviewed and revised. There are two main drivers for this review and revision. Firstly, the validity of the existing risk assessments is coming to an end and secondly, the requirements need to be aligned with the EUDR (REGULATION EU 2023/1115 known as the European Union Deforestation Regulation).

Purpose and Outputs

Purpose: Using a centralized approach, to review the existing national and centralized risk assessments against the <FSC-PRO-60-006b Risk Assessment Framework>, identify gaps and discrepancies and revise the respective assessment in conformance with the Framework.

Outputs: 1. Existing risk assessments reviewed and a brief review report submitted to FSC.
2. 1st revised draft of risk assessment submitted for FSC review and improved based on the FSC assessment.
3. 2nd draft of revised risk assessment submitted for FSC review and improved based on the FSC assessment.
5. Final draft of the revised risk assessment submitted to FSC for decision making.
6. Addressed conditions/ recommendations from decision making body on the final draft (in case the Approval Committee gives conditions for the adoption of the Risk Assessment).
