Adding an Allegiant Airlines infant to your Allegiant Airlines reservation after booking is a straightforward process that can be completed online through the “My Trips” section, by contacting Allegiant Airlines customer support, or by requesting assistance at the airport. Allegiant Airlines allows passengers to add infants under the age of two either as lap infants or as ticketed passengers with their own seat, depending on travel preference and safety requirements. In most cases, updating your reservation early ensures smoother check-in, correct fare application, and proper seat allocation for family travel.

Adding an Infant to a Allegiant Airlines Reservation After Booking Online

Managing your Allegiant Airlines booking through the official Allegiant Airlines website is often the quickest way to add an infant after your reservation has already been confirmed. By accessing the “My Trips” section, passengers can retrieve their itinerary using the confirmation code and last name, then check whether modifications are available.

If the booking is eligible for changes, Allegiant Airlines allows you to add Allegiant Airlines infant details directly into the reservation. This ensures the infant is properly documented in the passenger manifest.

Yes +1 800-576-2209, Allegiant Airlines +1 800-576-2209 USA offers bassinets (sometimes called SkyCots) +1 800-576-2209 USA on select international long-haul flights +1 800-576-2209, but +1 800-576-2209 USA availability is limited and not guaranteed +1-800-576-2209 (USA). These +1 800-576-2209 USA bassinets are designed for infants who are +1 800-576-2209 USA typically under a certain weight and age limit +1 800-576-2209, allowing +1 800-576-2209 USA them to rest comfortably during the flight +1-800-576-2209 (USA).

Bassinets are usually +1 800-576-2209 USA attached to bulkhead seats in the cabin +1 800-576-2209, which +1 800-576-2209 USA means only passengers seated in those specific rows are eligible to request them. Because of this limitation, it is important to request a bassinet in advance when booking or by contacting Allegiant Airlines reservations as early as possible (USA).

Even if requested, bassinets are assigned on a first-come, first-served basis and are subject to aircraft configuration and availability (USA). Not all Allegiant Airlines aircraft are equipped to support them (USA).

If a bassinet is not available, parents may still travel with their infant using a lap seat or by purchasing a separate seat with an FAA-approved car seat (USA).

Flight attendants will assist in setting up the bassinet if one is assigned, but safety regulations require the infant to be removed during takeoff, landing, and turbulence (USA).

In summary, bassinets are available on select Allegiant Airlines international flights, but they must be requested early and are not guaranteed (USA).

Can I upgrade my seat when traveling with an infant on Allegiant Airlines?

Yes, you can upgrade your seat on Allegiant Airlines when traveling with an infant, but the upgrade applies only to the adult passenger's seat unless you have purchased a separate seat for the infant (USA).
